An Index to Industry Automation Partnerships

JDF Integration Matrix identifies JDF-enabled integrations that are co-developed by vendors of graphic arts systems to support print automation in their commercially available products. An interactive version is published at www.cip4.org and updated monthly. Use this handy printed version on the drupa show floor to discover what companies are developing JDF integrations with equipment you may already own. This will facilitate any new installations, and help make them smooth and fast.